UP AGAINST A WALL

College life takes everyone into a different world. The realization that you now have to make it on your own brings many thoughts of panic. As Alice asks in Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland, "Will you please tell me which way I ought to go from here?" "That depends a good deal on where you want to get to," said the Cat. "I don't care much where," said Alice. "Then it doesn't matter which way you go," said the Cat. Thoughts of the future and how to handle it becomes a part of the thought process as we decide what it is that we'll be doing for the rest of our lives. For many, college gives the first opportunity of experiencing real responsibility. This leaves us up against a wall of maturity ...

School can sometimes just tire you out.

BUILDING UP

Throughout our lives, we are constantly building up the old to accommodate for the new. The 1990-91 academic year started in just that way with the building of new women's dorms to accommodate Union's growing female student body. As always the new year also saw the building up and strengthening of new and old friendships. We saw physical building up through the Student Activities Committee, intramurals, and the various teams at Union, while the BSU and chapel programs aided in the spiritual building up of the campus with its spiritual support and inspiration . . .

TEARING

DOWN

Intramurals provides a good opportunity to tear down walls.

Cam Tracy helps tear down the Berlin Wall.

On October 3, 1990, the two Germanies completely tore down the wall that had separated them for so many years. As the years go by, each one of us should make a conscious effort to tear down the walls that separate us and bring unity among the different facets of Union University. Dissassembling these walls takes time and a good deal of thought, but in the end those with the open minds start to see more clearly that the torn down wall makes the difference. So question all that is around you and make sure that your actions are consistent with your thoughts and that shall bring unity to more than just Union . . .

THE # WALL

There are many things in life that can make us want to climb the walls. These things could be an annoying roommate or an extra-hard Chemistry test, but it is how we handle these obstacles that makes the difference in our lives. Blowing up at your roommate won't really solve anything, and it will probably make it even more difficult to live with him for the rest of the semester. Making sure that we have prepared for the test and doing our best on that test is all that we need to ask from ourselves. Worrying about the test only gets our attitudes in a negative state, and we eventually end up worrying more about the grade than we do about the material. If we can all learn how to handle those things that get under our skin then maybe they won't be getting under our skin anymore. We must learn how to climb the walls without falling off . . .

Shuffling through the walls of books in the library.

WALL TO WALL

Many times in our lives, we must survive with limited space. Such is the case in the individual rooms at Union where we have wall to wall compression. This finds us not being able to even turn around if a mess has built up. We also find this characteristic in raquetball courts, but they are supposed to be closed in. The compression adds to the game as you must judge exactly how to play the ball off the wall. Compression can be a plus with dating. Not having enough space is a very good excuse to "get close."

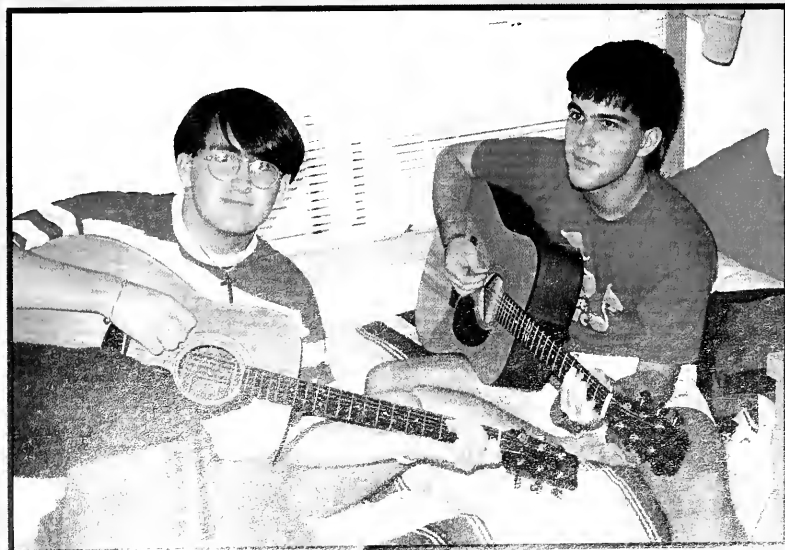

Having your space is also a very important facet to your life. There are many times when you just have to be by yourself, and having that compressed room at Union comes in very handy. This time gives us a chance to think through things or talk to God. This privilege of aloneness not only relieves tension for a short time, but it keeps us sane and in touch with our feelings. So take time to put some walls up around yourself but remember that they are to be temporary . . .

BREAK THROUGH

ING

Rachel Agee orientates with a little help from her friend Jeff Williamson.

Shari Brantley finally breaks through on the new intercom system.

Breaking through walls is a major activity in our lives. Whether the walls be communication or technology, we must find a way to break through the barriers and make it to the real meaning. A new intercom system was installed over the summer, and it was very difficult to break through the limited capacities of the system to reach a friend of the opposite sex.

Kinks had to be worked out of the system, but the wall was broken down and the system works fine now. Freshmen had to break through a similar wall of confusion to gain a sense of where they were going in college life before they could really enjoy what was happening around them. They broke through their wall, and now they are making strides in accomplishing their goals. All we have to do is recognize our problem and then we can start to find a way to break through it . . .

OFF the WALL

Life can sometimes be a little off the wall. Finding those off beat moments often makes a day seem better than it was before. Those things that are off the wall or different are the things people remember. Making a certain face or coming up with a witty joke make people smile and forget about their problems for a while.

Another way to be off the wall is to just be different. Being a Christian is a very off the wall thing in our world. The reason for this is that Christians are to be sacred or set apart from the rest of the world; therefore, we must show the world that we are different from them in that we have something real to live for: Jesus Christ. So go out and be radical about your faith and maybe others will want to be different, too . . .

CAMPUS LIFE

If you were to look at a calendar of Union's activities each year, you would probably see a schedule that is very similar. But if you looked at each year individually and saw how different each year was from the previous one, you would have to be surprised at how differently these events could turn out. The reason for this discrepancy is, of course, the students. Each year new personalities emerge as leaders and old emotions find renewed meanings. The one thing, though, that essentially remains constant is the events that shape Union's year. It is a process of making the same, different.

It started of course with Freshmen Orientation where the new kids started to gather their bearings on where they were. Then on to Campus Day where prospective students looked at the campus and the Greeks battled it out in the Greek Olympics. Following this event came Homecoming when the alumni returned and All-Sing took place. Finally in the spring a new Miss Union was selected and went on to compete in the Miss Tennessee Pageant. Other events sponsored by BSU, SAC, and Campus Recreation gave us endless possibilities for entertainment.

On the surface, Union may not sound like the most exciting place on the face of the earth; but if you have any personality or imagination, you can make things that are the same, different.

"Making The Same, Different . . ."

Angie Williams

Trent Presley, a senior from Brownsville, TN, has a major in Management and Marketing and a minor in Communications. During Trent's career at Union, he was very active in Sigma Alpha Epsilon in which he was a senator, participated heavily in the intramurals, and was elected Vice President of the fraternity. In addition to these, Trent was president of Student Foundations and participated in the Public Relations Society. After graduation, Trent plans to pursue a career in public relations.

Angie Williams, a senior with a major in Elementary Education, hails from Union City, TN. While at Union, Angie participated in many organizations including Student Foundations and FCA. Also as an active member of Chi Omega, she served as pledge trainer and president in addition to being a SAE little sister. Angie was also a Campus Favorite, made Union's Dean's List, and was included in the Who's Who Among American College Students. Following graduation, Angie plans to teach at the elementary level.

MISS UNION PAGEANT

Contestants For Crown

Each year a Miss Union is selected to represent Union University in the Miss Tennessee Pageant who could go on to the Miss America Pageant. This is a very prestigious title that is accompanied by a scholarship and a wardrobe allowance for further competition.

Many different organizations select a contestant for the pageant. A few of these ladies appear here and one of them could possibly become Miss Union. This year's pageant, under the direction of Chuck Hatfield for the third consecutive year, looks to be a very competitive one.

FLOWERS FOR TILLY

"Flowers" A

Huge Success

The Union University Theatre Department received critical acclaim for its first production of the year. "Flowers for Tilly." The drama for this production was written by Union education professor Wayne Alford and was adapted from a novel by Frank E. Peretti. Serving as theatre director was David Burke.

Becky Harris, a senior from Newburn, Tennessee, had the role of Kathy Ross in this play which dealt with the guilt suffered from an abortion. Others with prominent roles included Jean Marie Barnwell as Tilly; Jay Noble as Dan Ross; Shondra Hayes as Anita Mendoza, Ricky Mitchell as Pastor O'Cleary; Kevin Watkins as Pastor Taylor; Russ Pflasterer as Harlowe Bendix; David Duncan as Tommy Ross; J. Scott Davis as Bruce Ross; Ashley Fitch as Amy Ross; and Leigh Womack as the secretary. In addition to these Union students, Jackson resident Bob Brasher portrayed the cemetery caretaker. A host of area children also had parts in the drama.

"Tilly" began its run in the W.D. Powell Theatre on November 14 and had shows on November 15, 16, 17, 19, and December 1. Response was so great that the show was held over for a special presentation on December 3. — Eric Mason.

Sharing Christ's Love

The BSU at Union is an all-encompassing organization that strives to meet the needs of every student and those with whom they come in contact. Whether it be physically, emotionally, or spiritually; the Baptist Student Union tries to reach out and support.

BSU is the largest organization on campus as every student is considered a member. Each Monday night at 6:00 the BSU meets as a whole to worship the Lord. Then throughout the week their other subgroups meet to share their love for Christ in their own special way. Groups such as the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Black Christian Fellowship, Baptist Young Women, and the Ministerial Association serve special needs on campus; while groups such as Impact Drama, Witness, Vision Clowns, and Sunshine Puppets take their ministry on the road to witness. These groups provide students with a golden opportunity to minister in a unique way and learn how to bring Christ's love to the world.

One of the BSU's major endeavors is to help each individual grow in his personal relationship with Christ. Within the confines of Union it is often easy to live for Christ due to the Christian atmosphere, but after graduation it might not be so easy. The BSU helps each student to establish their Christian values before they go into the Lion's Den.

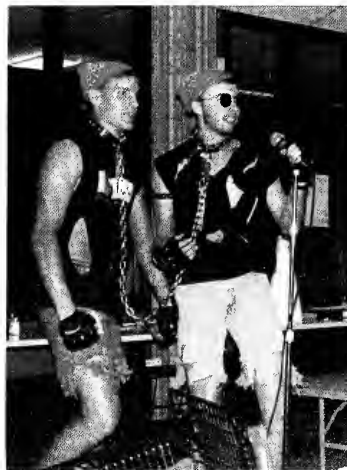

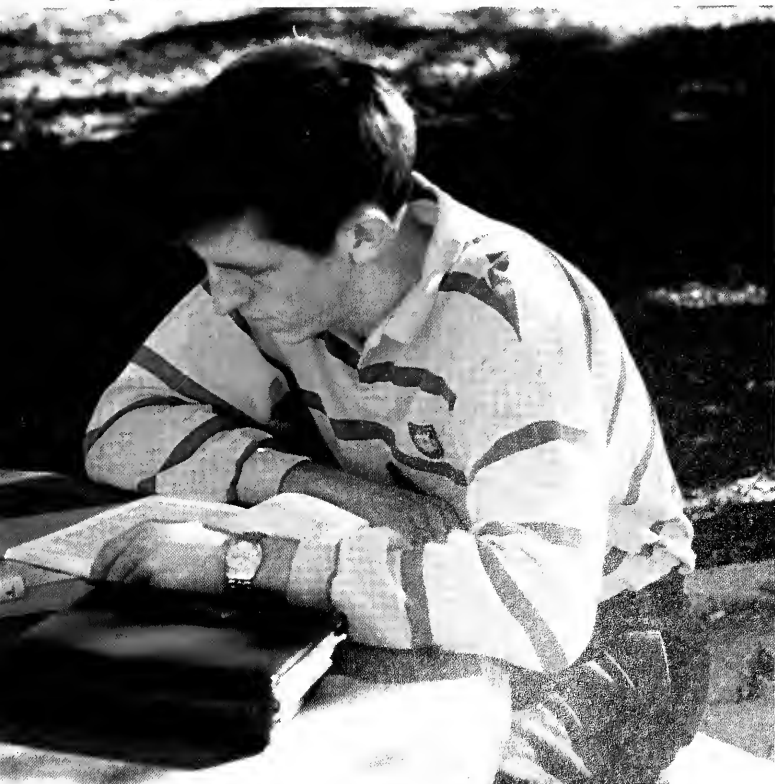

In the world's eyes the BSU may not be that important, but its importance can make a difference in that world.

The Mission's Endeavor

At Union, the missions goal is much talked about subject that the students care about deeply. This year the goal was the highest ever: $34,500. This goal supports many projects of love throughout the year including SPOTS (Special Projects Other Than Summer) teams which consists of students spending their Spring Breaks helping out where needed. The SPOTS teams go to such places as East St. Louis, Detroit, and Baltimore. Many deep relationships and fond memories are experienced while these excursions turn out to be extremely rewarding for those who participate.

Other portions of the goal go to students who are willing to give up their entire summer for missions in a foreign place. Some students stay within the boundaries of the U.S.

such as in Michigan and Missouri, but others are more adventurous and travel out of the country to such places as the Phillipines to spread love. These students quickly learn how to be a servant.

Other interesting activities include retreats and conferences traveled to by the BSU. This year they traveled to the State Fall Convention in Memphis and the State Spring Conference in Clarksville. Also the year was kicked off with the Fall Retreat at Chickasaw where everyone gets to know each other. Finally, the BSU traveled to Pinecrest where they experienced the Mid-winter Retreat with other West Tennessee BSU's.

The BSU ministers not only at Union but around the world.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES COUNCIL

Blowing Off A Little Steam

The Student Activities Council (SAC) is just as it says, the council that provides activities for the students. Not to be confused with Campus Recreation, SAC provides major activities about once a month that allow students to blow off a little steam. SAC begins each year with a Freshman Orientation Party where the freshmen get a chance to let guards down and build friendships up.

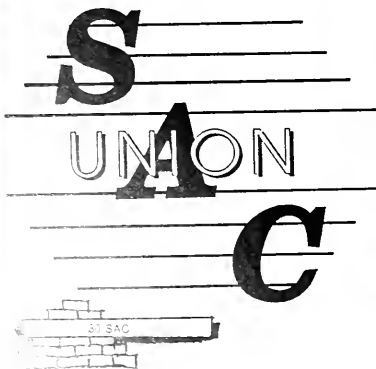

Then throughout the year, other activities were planned. One function was the Game Show Night in which the game shows "Let's Make A Deal" and "The Dating Game" were imitated. Prizes such as a color TV, a VCR, a mountain bike, and a years supply of toilet paper from the commons were given away in addition to a night out on the town with the "date of your dreams."

Other activities such as UA Movie Night were also planned. Students could see a movie for a buck when SAC rented the UA movie theater at midnight on a Friday. Also, during Bowling Night, the bowling alley was open late to provide students an opportunity to get their fingers stuck in a bowling ball and wear funny looking shoes.

These activities provided us with a source of physical and social activity that will have to do until dancing is allowed at Union.

Always Something To Do At Union

Have you ever visited a friend at his school on a weekend and wondered why everyone goes home while a majority of people at Union stay? Well, one reason for this is Campus Recreation.

Campus Recreation provides students with something to do throughout the week and into the weekend; thus, many people stay to participate in the activities. These activities include Skate Night, Water Polo Night, the Free-throw Contests, the Turkey Trot, and many other challenging activities.

In addition to the various activities, Campus Recreation also coordinates the Intramural activities that occur throughout the year. These activities allow the different organizations on campus to interact with each other in competition.

So next time you visit your friend and you both find nothing to do at his school, come back to Union where there is always something to do.

Combatting Feelings Of Displacement

Picture it. A seventeen year old freshman packs his bags and travels to a place where "mommy" is an uncommon term and home cooked meals are scarce. He is forced into making immediate friends with his roommates and has to endure extreme homesick pangs.

Well, Union provides something to combat those feelings of displacement. College Life at Union, otherwise known as CLU, is an extensive orientation program that is required for all incoming students.

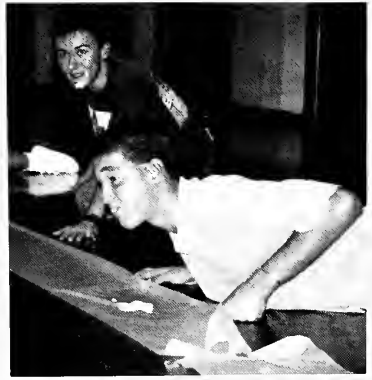

During the opening weekend of school, the freshmen receive their first dose of Union in the form of fun and games to loosen tension. The freshmen are divided into groups with one upperclassman called a Pacer. Then, throughout the first couple of weeks this group meets together and discovers Union together.

CAMPUS DAY

A Day Of Fun And Recruitment

Campus Day is an event that means different things for different people. For high school students it provides a chance to see a college campus up close. For ministry groups it provides a chance to witness while recruiting. And for Greeks it provides a day for competition and fun. All in all, it is a pretty satisfying day.

On Campus Day high school students come to learn about every aspect of Union. They start by visiting various booths in the gyms put up by organizations and departments in order to see the academic side of Union. They are given tours of the campus to see how a college student lives. Also they visit presentations given by the ministry groups to see the spiritual side of the campus.

Later in the afternoon, the high school students get to see the social side of the campus in the form of the Greek Olympics. The fraternities and sororities battle it out for Greek pride, but good sportsmanship is always observed.

To finish off the day, entertainment is provided in the form of song. This year Steven Curtiss Chapman (pictured left) gave a superb concert that filled the chapel.

The purpose for this day is mainly for recruitment purposes, but it tends to turn into a great day for all the students instead.

HOMECOMING

Some Day We Can Say "Remember When"

With winter looming in the air and excitement building for Christmas, Homecoming became a great time of fellowship and fraternity for present students as well as alumni. Although a few alumni opted not to come to the 1990 Homecoming festivities because of the earthquake scare, a good number still made the annual pilgrimage to support their faithful alma mater. As we reminisced over old times and forged memories for the future, the theme of "Remember When . . ." came to life and showed us how much memories mean to us.

The week began with the Homecoming chapel on Monday morning which was followed by the Pep Rally at which, for the first time, the Homecoming Queen was crowned. This year's Homecoming Queen was Leann Foster, and her court consisted of Susan Sisk, Paula Powell, Angie Williams, and Paula Ashlock. Other events included the Variety Show on Thursday and the Italian dinner on Friday evening. Following the dinner, visitors and students were entertained at All-Sing with a wide variety of music. Then, to get pepped up for the game the next day, the Bonfire began as Greeks cheered and danced around the glowing mass of wood.

All of these events led up to the grand finale: the ball games. This year Union won in both of its efforts on the floor against Williams Baptist University. All in all, the weekend turned out to be enjoyable for all who participated, and now we can say "remember when . . ." years from now about the 1990 Homecoming.

ALL-SING

Finding "The Reason We Sing"

After months of voice training, costume preparations, and choreography creations; the 1990 All-Sing entertainers were ready to show their stuff. Each act made the proper preparations to give a show that the audience could never forget. This annual competition sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia is set up to promote music at Union and show its role in the enrichment of the soul. This goal was exemplified in the theme "The Reason We Sing." And sing they did.

Starting the evening off, Zeta Tau Alpha did a collection of songs from The Sound of Music, which was followed by Alpha Tau Omega's "Down on the Bayou" rendition. Next came Chi Omega with a military salute to the men overseas with "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy." Sigma Alpha Epsilon then presented a few selections from the Broadway smash "Phantom of the Opera." The ladies from Kappa Delta followed with an energetic offering of "Puttin' on the Ritz." To close out the show, Lambda Chi Alpha did a salute to America with a large collection of memorable tunes.

After the judges votes were tabulated, Kappa Delta took the first place honors followed by Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Chi Omega, respectively.

This night turned out to be a lively and spectacular evening of talent and competition that was an enjoyable time for all who attended.

CURRENT EVENTS

Each year new and different things happen that in one way or the other make history. These are the major events that affect the world daily and the events that make us what we are today.

Included in this year were many events that may alter life as we know it throughout the world. Early in August Saddam Hussain's Iraq invaded Kuwait. With this development, President Bush called for a troop build-up of American troops in Saudi Arabia while oil prices rose and Americans became irate. This crisis was a major event that flooded newscasts for months on ends and affected many as sons, daughters, friends, and spouses who were called overseas to answer America's call.

In addition to this crisis, many other important things did happen. East and West Germany got remarried in early October and Jim Major was named the new Prime Minister of Great Britain taking over Margaret Thatcher's office.

To some this section may not fit in a yearbook that is suppose to just tell what happened at the school. With this section we are able to see the things that went on in our school along with the things that went on outside of the school. We are then able to see what went on in our lives more completely and more vividly.

CHANGING TIMES

Volume 2, Issue 1

Fall 1990 — Spring 1991

FROM SHIELD TO STORM

After threatening the Persian Gulf principally of Kuwait for over-producing oil, Iraq invaded and conquered Kuwait Aug. 2. U.S. President George Bush quickly ordered American military forces to Saudi Arabia Aug. 6-7 to deter a possible Iraqi invasion of that country.

Bush rallied an unprecedentedly broad international alliance against Iraq, including both the Soviet Union and many moderate Arab states. The United Nations Aug. 6 authorized a trade and financial embargo of Iraq. Iraqi President Saddam Hussein responded by holding Westerners hostage for four months.

As a standoff deepened, the U.S. Nov. 8 announced plans to increase the number of its armed forces stationed in Saudi Arabia and the gulf region — the bulk of the international military force — to 400,000. Finally, at the urging of the U.S., the U.N. Nov. 29 authorized the use of force against Iraq if it did not withdraw totally from Kuwait by Jan. 15, 1991.

The gulf crisis undermined an already soft U.S. economy. The crisis drove up oil prices and pushed down world stock markets. — Facts on File

With the thunderous razzle-dazzle of a tomahawk missile launch, America unleashed the full fury of modern warfare on the Middle East last week (Jan. 16). The first results were spectacular and terrifying. As Baghdad's baffled defenders filled the night sky with futile pyrotechnics, the combined forces of Washington's anti-Saddam coalition steered their precision-guided munitions into the bunkers and command posts of Iraq's outgunned military establishment. It all seemed effortless, antiseptic and surreal: casualties were very light, at least among the attackers, and high-tech gadgets in America's multibillion-dollar arsenal seemed to work with surgical lethality. Like a day at the office, one pilot said.

At home, millions of Americans tuned in to watch the high-tech sequel to The Living Room War. Washington fought euphoria, and the nation, swallowing its misgivings, rallied 'round the commander in chief. But there was foreboding, too — and intuition that this war, like Vietnam, would sooner or later go horribly wrong, or that the Scud missiles crashing down on Tel Aviv were omens of some larger Armageddon. In the chill wastes of Saudi Arabia, the troops of Desert Storm waited for the great land battle that seemed all but inevitable. Barring a miracle, they knew, the true face of war would be revealed in terror and blood. — Newsweek

PEACE TALKS SUCCESSFUL

Celebrating the fruits of their summit diplomacy, President Bush and Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev shook hands and signed a sheaf of agreements, including a conditional trade accord. During the June 1990 summit, the leaders also embraced a preliminary deal to cut long-range nuclear arms.

The centerpiece arms agreement, banning chemical arms production, was a foregone conclusion. But last-hour negotiating was necessary to settle differences on a framework for strategic arms cuts and a five-year grain deal.

The two leaders also agreed to strive for an elusive agreement on reaction of troops, tanks, and other conventional weapons in Europe.

From twin lecterns, the two presidents spoke of what they had done and what they hope to do. "I think what is happening now ... represents an event of momentous importance, not only for our two countries but for the world," said Gorbachev.

COMPOSER PASSES

Leonard Bernstein, 72, acclaimed as one of the most talented conductors and composers in American musical history; he leapt to fame in 1943 when, at age 25, he was called upon to substitute for conductor Bruno Walter in a New York Philharmonic Orchestra concert that was broadcast over radio; he quickly became musical celebrity, noted for his animated, exuberant conducting style; he served as music director of the Philharmonic, 1959-1969, and conducted regularly with the Israel Philharmonic and the Tanglewood Festival orchestra, among others. His compositions included Broadway musicals, symphonies, operas and operettas, and ballets, as well as a Mass written for the 1971 opening of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C. He died Oct. 14 of a heart attack at his home in New York City just five days after his retirement. — Facts on File

THE GERMANIES RE-UNITE

World leaders welcomed a united Germany into the international community on Oct. 3 (1990), but concerns about the balance of power tempered some European enthusiasm.

"A new era is beginning for Germany, for Europe and indeed, we hope, for the world," Secretary of State James A. Baker III declared in New York.

In a message to governments worldwide, Chancellor Helmut Kohl pledged that Germany would never again pose the territorial claims that marked Germany from its initial unification in 1871 to its defeat and division in World War II. "In the future, only peace will emanate from German soil," Kohl said.

His message came after Germany held a nightlong nationwide celebration with fireworks and music.

The nation united at the stroke of midnight when a giant German flag was raised in front of the battle-scarred Reichstag building in Berlin. Kohl and other leaders joined in singing the national anthem.

S & L BAILOUT COST RISES

Treasury Secretary Nicholas F. Brady May 23 told Congress that the bailout of insolvent savings and loan associations could cost as much as $300 billion over 10 years. Estimates of the cost of the bailout continued to rise as the real-estate sector declined. Fraud was seen as a factor in many of the failures.

Fallout from the scandal involved five U.S. senators associated with S & L owner Charles Keating, and President Bush's son, Neil Bush, in separate investigations.

Commercial banks also began to feel a pinch. Federal regulators Dec. 11-17 said the federal fund insuring bank deposits would need a major cash infusion to ensure "stability." — Facts on File

WHITE DIES

the difficulties faced by children with the fatal disease AIDS when he was banned from classes in Kokomo, Ind. in 1984 and shunned by his classmates after doctors discovered that he had contracted AIDS from a blood transfusion; he sued the school system and was remitted but his family later moved to Cicero, Ind. where he found greater acceptance — He died April 8 — His funeral on April 11th in Indianapolis was attended by more than 1,500 people including First Lady Barbara Bush and singers Michael Jackson and Elton John. — Facts on File

HOMELESS NUMBER GROWS

A legion of clipboard-toting counters sought out shelters, subways and steam grates on March (1990) in the broadest attempt ever to find out the extent of homelessness since it became a national disgrace in the 1980s.

Some homeless didn't mind the government intrusion. "It shows that they're starting to recognize us as humans and not the scum of the earth," said one young man on the streets.

Another homeless man said, "What are they going to use the numbers for anyway? To tell us there ain't no homeless problem? I'm a living example that there is a problem. We need jobs, not surveys."

The U.S. Census Bureau is spending $2.7 million to tally homeless Americans, but critics fear an undercount will allow the government to justify cuts in services.

The homeless — now estimated to number 250,000 to 3 million — were asked their name, age, sex, race and marital status.

SOUTER SWORN IN

An unknown Federal Appeals Court judge, David Souter, 51, became the quiet center of a storm when President Bush named him to the Supreme Court. Legislators and lobbyists vied to solve the mystery of a man who didn't cut a swath even in his hometown of Weare, N.H.

The Harvard philosophy major proved to like books, hiking, cottage cheese — and not foretelling his stand on constitutional issues. He also likes his new chambers. — Life

FORBES PASSES

Malcolm Forbes, 70, chairman of Forbes, Inc. and publisher of Forbes business magazine, which was founded by his father in 1917; he was a flamboyant millionaire who was known for his love of yachting, motorcycling, and hot-air ballooning; his fortune was estimated at $400 million to $1 billion — Died February 24th — heart attack at home in Far Hills, N.J. — Facts on File

EARTHQUAKE SCARE SHAKES US UP

If nothing else, Iben Browning knows how to get your attention. Browning is a climatologist and $2,500-a-day business consultant who has Midwesterners shaking in their boots because of his rather far-fetched projection that there are "50-50" odds of a major Missouri earthquake next week (Dec. 3 or 4). But then, he has also said that tidal forces and volcanic eruptions have caused such events as the American Revolution and the fall of communism. "They think communism failed," Browning told the Chicago Tribune. "No, the weather failed." (By the way, the earthquake never happened.) — Newsweek

EARTH DAY CELEBRATED

On April 22, an estimated 200 million people all over the planet celebrated the 20th anniversary of Earth Day as activists pleaded for the rise of a new "conservation generation" to care for the fragile environment.

In Washington, Earth Day founder Gaylord Nelson urged more than 100,000 people massed at the foot of the Capitol to work to motivate politicians and corporate leaders to environmental action.

"I don't want to come back here 20 years from now and have to tell your sons and daughters that you didn't do your duty," said Nelson, 74, who originated Earth Day when he was a Senator from Wisconsin. "We've got to raise a conservation generation."

FLOODS RIP THROUGH THE SOUTH

The Southern U.S. spent much of the Spring wringing itself out after weeks of flooding turned entire towns into stumps, and the toll of shattered lives was tremendous.

While parts of the Mid-West dealt with heavy rainfall and floods, those states suffering the most damage were Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

In Texas alone, agricultural damage was estimated at $700 million and at least $60 million to residences.

REDS SWEEP WORLD SERIES

The Cincinnati Reds, given no chance to beat the Oakland Athletics, needed only four quick games to win the World Series in one of the biggest upsets in baseball history.

The Reds completed their improbable sweep on October 20 (1990) in spite of losing two star players, Eric Davis and Billy Hatcher, to injuries. Cincinnati relied on Jose Rijo and rallied for two runs in the eighth inning to win 2-1, and that was it.

The Athletics' third straight trip to the World Series ended with yet another disappointment. In 1988, they lost to Los Angeles, last year's championship overshadowed by an earthquake and this season, the Reds.

GIANTS TOWER OVER BILLS

Most Super Bowls are decided by four touchdowns. This one was decided by four feet, the difference between victory and defeat Sunday night (Jan. 27) in Super Bowl XXV.

That was how far wide right Buffalo's Scott Norwood missed a field goal with four seconds left, leaving the New York Giants clinging to a 20-19 victory over the Buffalo Bills in the closest game in Super Bowl history.

This was the way Super Bowls should end, one last play, both teams holding their breaths, winner take everything — The Jackson Sun.

WEST GERMANY WINS WORLD CUP

German fans chanted and sang and screamed their pleasure on July 8 (1990) when West Germany dethroned Argentina and won the World Cup.

"Deutschland ist Weltmeister (German is world champion)," was the prevalent scream as a match that had grown ugly with fouls in the second half finally ended.

The Argentines took the loss as well as could be expected, shaking hands with many German youths at the stadium.

Many Germans headed into central Rome to celebrate the victory that came after the frustration of losses in the previous two World Cup finals, to Italy in 1982 and Argentina in 1986.

RYAN CONTINUES STELLAR CAREER

Relying on his 95-mph fastball, Texas Ranger Nolan Ryan, the oldest player in the major leagues, pitched a record sixth no-hitter in June. A month later the 43-year-old superman became the 20th pitcher to win 300 games. — Life

ROSE RELEASED

Pete Rose went to work as a gym teacher's assistant in five inner-city elementary schools as he began to perform 1000 hours of community service to complete his sentence for federal tax offenses.

Rose, 49, is living for the next three months at Talbert house, a halfway house. He went there after this release from a federal prison camp in Manor, Ill. where he served five months.

Because of Rose's "permanently ineligible" status, the BBWAA voted to keep him out of the Hall of Fame.

Until Rose is reinstated, if ever, his total of 4,256 hits will be in the same baseball limbo as Shoeless Joe Jackson's .356 career batting average, third highest in history. The records are in the books, but the men who made them cannot be in the Hall of Fame because of their lifetime bans. — The Sporting News

STIENBRENNER RESIGNS

New York Yankee principle owner George Steinbrenner August 20 resigned as team's general partner. Steinbrenner had agreed to relinquish management control over the club as a penalty for his association with gambler Howard Spira. On August 23 Steinbrenner along with the U.S. Olympic Committee announced that he would become inactive as a USOC vice president. The committee said controversy over Steinbrenner's baseball problems had distracted the committee and that Steinbrenner's role with the USOC would be evaluated as "the situation unfolds". — Facts on File

GRETZKY NETS 2,000

In only his 12th season, Wayne Gretzky became the first player to net 2,000 goals and assists. At this pace he will more than double Gordie Howe's old record of 1,850, scored over 26 seasons. — Life

COLORADO, GEORGIA TECH #1 TIE

For the first time since after the 1978 season, the two final major college football polls Jan. 2 chose different teams for the top ranking.

The Associated Press poll, conducted among 60 sports journalists, ranked Colorado number one. The top spot in the United Press International poll of 59 National Collegiate Athletic Association Division I-A football coaches went to Georgia Tech, by one point over Colorado. — Facts on File

NAVRATILOVA'S NINTH WIMBLEDON

The queen of Centre Court, Martina Navratilova, bested Helen Wills Moody's record of eight Wimbledon singles titles with a ninth in July. Along with the hefty silver plate, the game's elder stateswomen, 34, carried home a champion check for $354,674. — Life

CHANGING TIMES ENTERTAINMENT

MPAA ANNOUNCES NC-17 RATING

Jack Valenti, the president of the Motion Picture Association of America, announced September 26 that the MPAA would eliminate its X-rating for films and replace it with a rating called NC-17, meaning that no children under age 17 would be admitted.

The move came at a time when the x-rating was under fire from many film makers who charged that it stigmatized films as pornographic.

Unlike the old X, the new NC-17 rating would be trademarked by the MPAA meaning only the MPAA could use it. The lack of trademark for the x-rating had led to its use as a promotional gimmick by makers of pornographic films even though they had not submitted their movies to the MPAA for review. As a result the X-rating had come to be associated with pornographic films, leading many movie theaters to refuse to show films with X-rating. — Facts on File

PUPPETEER JIM HENSON DIES

Jim Henson, puppeteer who created the popular Muppet characters including Kermit the Frog, Miss Piggy and Big Bird. The Muppets became universally known when they became the mainstays of the children's program "Sesame Street" which debuted on public television in 1969. In 1976 Henson created "The Muppet Show" which was reported to have attracted more viewers than any other program in television history; Henson's feature films included three muppet movies, as well as The Dark Crystal (1982), Labyrinth (1986), and the current Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles. Henson died May 16th of streptococcal pneumonia in New York City. — Facts on File

CONTROVERSY

LEFT — Yes, after seven years she's still getting folks to pay attention to her. She threatened nonvoters with spankings, wooed Warren Beatty on- and off-screen and beat MTV at its own game by turning the station's rejection of her latest video, "Justify My Love," into big bucks for herself. Why? Because, as she told Nightline's Forrest Sawyer, "I'm in charge." — Time

RIGHT — With their "As Nasty As They Wanna Be" album, the rap group 2 Live Crew attracted parental ire and Fundamentalist fire. No one denied that the lyrics were raunch, but the jurors at the group's Florida obscenity trial were so tickled that they asked the judge for permission to laugh during the proceedings. Then they promptly acquitted the rappers. — Time

DAVIS DIES

Sammy Davis, Jr., singer, dancer, actor and nightclub entertainer who was one of the first black performers to win widespread acclaim from white audiences; he began his professional career at age three with the Vaudeville troop in which his father performed; he eventually became the group's star performer and made a number of recordings and television appearances; his success led to starring roles in the Broadway shows Mr. Wonderful (1956) and Golden Boy (1964); he also became famous for being a member of the "Rat Pack" — a group of fast living, hard-drinking Hollywood performers of the early 60's who included Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, and Peter Lawford — died May 16th of throat cancer at his home in Los Angeles. — Facts on File

WELL, THEY CAN DANCE

Milli Vanilli, who won a 1989 Grammy Award for Best New Artist, had to admit not only that they didn't sing live on stage but also that it wasn't their own voices on their albums. Goodbye Grammy. As for their earlier boast that they were better than Bob Dylan and the Beatles? Well, sure — as dancers.

VAUGHN PASSES

Stevie Ray Vaughn, Texas born musician who was one of the U.S.'s top blues and rock guitar players; together with his band, Double Trouble, he won the 1984 Grammy for best contemporary blues recording for the song "Texas Flood" and the 1989 Grammy for best contemporary blues recording for "In Step"; he also performed with such rock artists as David Bowie, Joe Cocker and Eric Clapton. Died August 27th in a helicopter crash near East Troy, Wis. that also took the lives of three members of Clapton's entourage. — Facts on File

IT'S MISS AMERICA

There she is, Miss America. Marjorie Judith Vincent, Miss Illinois, is a pianist of Haitian descent who wants to practice international law. Miss America 1991 is 25-year-old and is a third-year law student at Duke University who graduated from DePaul University in 1988 with a degree in music.

GREEKS

"Foot Functions" are generally associated with Greeks. Intramural sports have Greeks rising to meet each others challenges. Retreats have Greeks singing, chanting, and learning about one another. Is this all there is to being a Greek? NO!

Greek organizations support and encourage the ideas that contribute to the development of an individual. From the competitive activities to the various retreats, sororities and fraternities work toward higher academic and spiritual goals.

Throughout the year, ideas such as friendship, leadership, and community spirit are promoted by the organizations. Commencing with Rush, continuing with meetings and culminating with the Olympics this society of brothers and sisters works toward developing these traits in each individual.

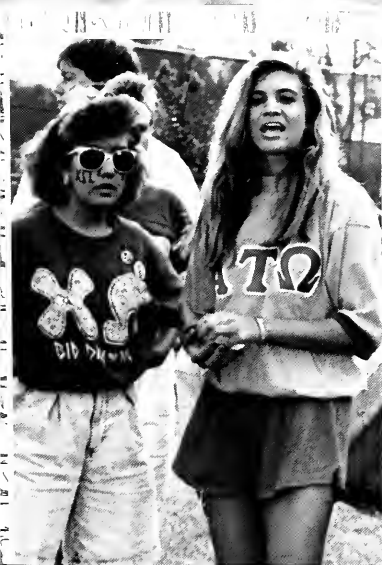

As each student continues through school, so will each continue in life. Using these building blocks for the future, he or she will become the leaders of our society. So, fun-n-games are not all that it means to be a Greek. These friends are developing ideas for their future, while enjoying this time in school.

"Building Blocks
For The Future . . ."

Greek life — competition and friendship.

Fun And Philanthropy

When it comes to having a good time, the ladies of the Beta Omega Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha like to share the fun with those who are less privileged. For this reason it is not surprising to find they once again sponsored the Annual Halloween Carnival to raise money for the Association of Retarded Citizens and other charities. They also adopted children for the SAC Christmas Dinner. The ladies of ZTA are also a part of the adopt a highway program, insuring that their assigned area of highway is kept free of litter and debris.

The spirit to help others arises from personal happiness, and the Beta Omega Chapter has seen to it that their pledges and members have many reasons to be happy. In addition to their Bid-Week party, welcoming pledges into the sisterhood, they rambled through the countryside on their Hayride, enjoyed the surf and sand at their Beach party, and shivered in fear at the Big-Little Halloween party.

Leaving A Trail

The newly-installed Zeta Beta Chapter of Kappa Delta has been working to establish traditions. As Union's newest sorority, the current members are setting precedents for the years to follow. It is not easy to establish rapport and community that will last into the future, but the ladies of KD have committed themselves to this task with a passion.

Some of this year's activities marked the second year of Kappa Delta's existence at Union, while others broke new ground. The Monster Mash saw its second appearance this year, as did the Christmas Formal and the Spring Banquet. One of the most intriguing parties was the KD Kidnap, in which unsuspecting young men were invited, blindfolded, and kidnaped by their Kappa Delta hostesses.

The essence of the Kappa Delta members and their pioneering efforts are nowhere summed up better than in String Along, in which the pledge discovers her big sister after following a long trail of yarn. These members are leaving behind a trail for their pledges and future sisters to follow.

Social And Scholastic

The ladies of the Upsilon Chapter of Chi Omega have made a name for themselves by throwing some of Union's most exciting theme parties and taking home numerous awards. This year was certainly no exception. Naturally, they threw the traditional parties which have served to establish their reputation: the "Crush" party, the "Fraty Friends" party, and, of course, the "Nerd Pageant" in which the new pledges dress up in a less than trendy fashion. But this year the ladies of XO were anything but unfashionable with the addition of their latest theme celebration:

"The Peace, Love, and Chi Omega party."

In addition to having some of the greatest parties, the ladies of Chi Omega have earned many of Union's highest awards. The Scholastic award, given to the sorority with the highest grade point average, has been presented to the Upsilon Chapter for 43 consecutive years. On Campus Day, they took home many awards including spirit, pyramid, and overall. The ladies of Chi Omega are proving that they can attain high goals and still have fun.

“Honor Sacred, Virtue Safe”

The men of SAE display their Christian and moral beliefs as stated in their creed, “True Gentlemen”, through the support and involvement in campus and community activities. Participation in organizations such as SGA, FCA, BSU, and Student Foundation show that they believe the integrity of an individual preserves his or her virtues. Community service continues this belief as they help others.

The Tennessee Eta Chapter of SAE helps their community through work in various local activities and through the sponsorship of programs for the children of the Exchange Club/Carl Perkins Child Abuse Center. Their efforts in the Special Olympics, Andrew Jackson Marathon, Forked Deer Festival and Cerebral Palsy Telethon are only a few examples of their community involvement. With over 130 years of excellence at Union, SAE holds “honor sacred, virtue safe”.

“Naught Without Labor”

From a city-wide food drive to scholastic awards, the men of Lambda Chi Alpha demonstrate their willingness to work which is a central theme for this group of hard-working men.

The men of Lambda Chi Alpha received numerous honors for excellence this year including the Scholastic Award, the Bruce H. McIntosh Award, and the coveted Grand High Alpha. Of these, the Grand High Alpha is the highest and most distinguished award. This distinction is bestowed upon only 9 of the 232 chapters of Lambda Chi Alpha.

These men earned their reputation as hard workers in the campus blood drive, which was one of the largest in West Tennessee. In addition, “Raiders for the Needy” and “Adopt-a-Highway” show that the men of Lambda Chi Alpha truly believe nothing is gained without labor.

Binding Men Together

The men of Alpha Tau Omega work to fulfill their Christian-based goals with various activities ranging from community service to Pledge Week. Some examples of community service are their participation in the Jackson Marathon and their work with the Heart Foundation. The "Adopt-a-Child" program rallies these men around their central idea of binding together to help each other.

From parties to Pledge Week members and pledges gather for fellowship and fun, but always within the context of Christ and the lessons he taught. The men of ATO coordinate their parties and activities to accomplish the highest goal of their fraternity: "To Bind Men Together".

CLUBS

For some, this section might be extremely boring because all that is pictured is one club after another. But this section is more alive than one might think. Each group pictured has a certain function that makes life at Union more exciting and worthwhile.

Some groups serve in leadership. They are the ones responsible for changing rules, organizing activities, and making sure that the student's voice is heard to the administration. They work closely with faculty and staff to insure that each student at Union is treated equally and fairly.

Other groups provide fraternity among people with like interests. They allow the exchange of ideas between these students and help others to see their convictions for these interests. These clubs and professional fraternities give the students opportunity for education that can aid them in their careers.

Still other groups provide students with a chance to entertain or express themselves through music, print, or acting. These groups allow students to get together challenge each other in the arts to perform their best work. Whether it be clowning, playing in the stage band, or writing a story in the "Cardinal and Cream;" each student is allowed to express himself in the way he chooses.

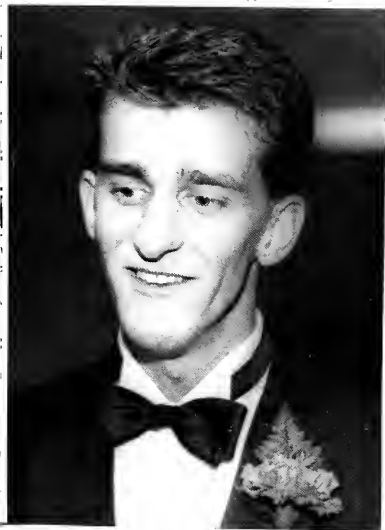

So as you can see, this section exemplifies life at Union for all students. The possibilities for activity are endless and are extremely important in the holistic approach to the school. So don't look at this section as boring but rather as full of life.

"Makes Life At Union
More Exciting ..."

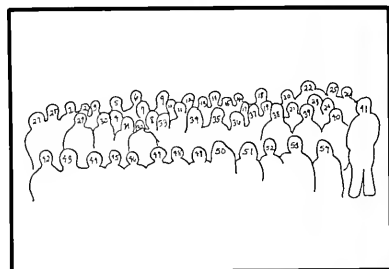

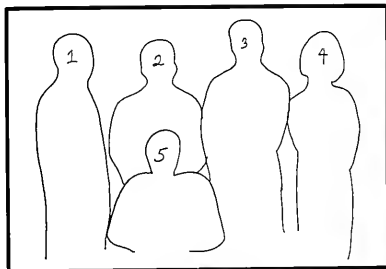

Clubs add life to Union.

SPORTS

Sports at Union play an important role in the development of the complete student. Challenging each other in sport brings out the best in each of us. Sharing sweat is a great way to break down walls between people by being able to exert ourselves, challenge someone else's ability, and have a shared laugh over a great play or goof-up. We are able to see people as they really are instead of seeing them behind the facade of life. This spirit of sport lives on at Union from the various organized sports to the intramural program.

In organized sports, such as the basketball teams or golf team, we get a chance to compete with students from other schools and see them as more than just competition. We see them as real people who are looking to get the same thing you're looking to get: a higher level of physical challenge. In this competition we push ourselves to do the best we can do, which is all we can ask. When we know we've reached that level, we can be satisfied with our performance and a good spirit about ourselves.

Through the intramural program, we are able to compete within the school against those we are in the classroom with everyday. We can see them in a different light and understand them better. This is a major goal of intramurals: to get the students to know each other in a different atmosphere.

Sports bring out many good traits in people, but we have to search to find these traits. When we find these traits, then we are finding the true spirit of sport.

"Finding The True Spirit Of Sport ..."

Sports build character in students.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The Bulldogs started this season with a fresh outlook on their competition. Gone were some of the star players from the dominating teams: Joe Behling, Darren Henrie, Phillip Hutcheson. The Dogs knew that they had a chance to compete, and compete they did. With returning talents such as Marshall Brown, Tony Gillespie, and Paul Barrow; the Bulldogs looked to improve their conference record and shoot for the championship. To strengthen this bid even more, Coach Rick McCormick brought in three key transfers and three solid freshmen who could add depth to the roster and bring about an unstoppable team.

The Bulldogs began the season by winning the Union-Cumberland Classic led by transfer Greg Turner from Univ. of Mississippi and Marshall Brown who both showed strong success in scoring and rebounding. They then went on into intense conference play with a short tournament in the Bahamas over the Christmas holidays. There they won two of their three games against teams from Illinois, Indiana, and Georgia.

Conference play was tough once again this year even though some of the big names were gone. Others just stepped up and took their place. Union compiled a conference record of 8-8 with a myriad of close wins and losses. The ultimate win was an overtime victory over the NAIA's #1 ranked team David Lipscomb on the Bulldog's home floor. This victory helped bring them back into contention for the conference crown. They finished fourth in the conference and had to face Lipscomb once again in tournament play, but this time on the match was on their home court. The Bulldogs played a tough game but were outmuscled by five points to end their season with a 17-15 record.

This season also saw many school records fall. Marshall Brown, who had had a stellar career at Union, finished the season as the all-time leading scorer at Union with 2204 lifetime points with the Bulldogs. In addition to this, he broke career records for most free throws made with 497 and for most field goals with 845. Paul Barrow also set a new record for best career 3-point percentage with .452.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The Lady Bulldogs are a force to be reckoned with in the TCAC any year, and this year was no exception. After finishing last season with a 23-6 record and eventually losing to David Lipscomb in the District 24 Tournament, the Lady Dogs were looking to drop the tournament jinx and make it to the elusive NAIA national tournament that is held in Jackson. With the leadership of seniors Kim Welch and Kim Roberts and junior Ressia Jackson, the Lady Dogs looked to use their previous experience to go as far as they could.

They started this goal off right by winning their first nine games which included the Union-Cumberland Classic, a game against 1990 NAIA tournament finalist Arkansas-Monticello, and two games versus Univ. of Tenn.-Martin. Their first loss came during their Christmas tournament in the Bahamas against Central Missouri State. They also won their other two games that they played in the Bahamas. Following the Christmas tournament they defeated every other team that they played except for one: Belmont, their Baptist rivals.

The Belmont ladies held some kind of power over the Lady Bulldogs that gave them the edge in contests. Belmont won by two in the first game and won by three in the second meeting. Finally in the District 24 Championship game, the game went into overtime, but Belmont pulled away in the extra five minutes and won the right to go to the national championship. All in all, Union finished their year with a 26-4 overall record and a 14-2 record in the TCAC. It really was an excellent season, but they fell a little short of the goal in the end.

In addition to this great season, one of the individuals of the team established a couple of school records. Kim Welch set three 3-point records. She had the most 3-point baskets in a game (9 vs. Williams Baptist AR), in a season (86), and in a career (172). Her nine 3-pointers against Williams Baptist helped the team set a record of 13 for a game.

MEN'S TENNIS

The Men's Tennis team looked extremely strong this year under the direction of Coach Ron Barry who put together a good mixture of new and old players for a winning combination. Playing in the first position for the team was Marcelo Chanes, a freshman from Santiago, Chile, who had played in many tournaments around the world. Following Marcelo was Bart Whitnell who was a senior from Mayfield, KY who stepped down from his previous number 1 position. The other four positions on the active team were filled by Derek Drake, Raymond Scott, Gary Bailey, and Gary Johnson, respectively.

The team traveled to Florida this year for an Invitational Tournament held March 22-27. The team played four different teams from northern schools such as the Univ. of Wisconsin and the College of St. Francis, Ill. They also faced their regular conference opponents in addition to a meet with Rhodes College.

Bart Whitnell sported the best record from the '90 season. Gary Bailey was named an NAIA Scholar Athlete in 1990. Gary Johnson returns as a three year starter.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

The Women's Tennis Team put together a very impressive team for the 1991 season that proved to be a success. With a stellar season behind them, the team looked to better themselves for a tough season ahead. In the first slot was Joy Kelly whose consistent play kept the team going in hard spots. Following Joy was Jennifer Whitwell, a freshman from Tupelo, MS, who got her first experience on the college level. The other four positions on the active team were Shari Brantley, Joy Beth Ezell, Melody Whaley, and Kim Roberts, respectively.

The team participated in an Invitational Tournament in Florida held March 22-27. They competed with other women's teams from colleges such as Bowdoin College of Maine and Oberlin College in Ohio. They also faced the tough teams from the conference along with a meeting with Rhodes for a very exciting year.

In 1990, Joy Kelley sported a 21-2 record, was named an NAIA Scholar Athlete, and went to the finals in the District Tournament. Joy Beth Ezell played third seed in 1990 and finished the year with a winning record. Kim Roberts was also named an NAIA Scholar Athlete of 1990.

GOLF

Who would have thought that a team from Union would finish tops in the nation in any sport. Well the golf team at Union thought they could and they did. Last year, 1990, the Union golf team finished 16th in the nation in NAIA rankings. This ranking was bestowed upon them because of their consistent play and painstaking practice. In accomplishing this high rating, the team won the Tennessee Intercollegiate title, the TCAC Conference title, and the District 24 NAIA title. Topping a season like this would be tough.

In action this fall, the team showed signs of another high rated season. They traveled to three different tournaments and fared well in all three. In the Tennessee Intercollegiate Fall Tournament, the team was able to play with all the schools participating from Tennessee. They finished second only to Tennessee Tech who understroked them by two shots for the title. They also traveled to the Pickwick Tri-State Tournament where they finished 12th of 24, and to a tournament in Coleman, Alabama where they finished 5th of 14. The team was led by Tom Miller with a stroke average for the tournaments of 76 followed by Jason Martin with a 77 and Steve Stafford with a 78. Chris Allison turned in a 80 stroke performance but looked to do better during the regular season. Also in talking with Don Morris, coach of the team, I felt a sense of optimism and confidence for the upcoming season.

BASEBALL

After a productive fall season, the Bulldogs hopes ran high for a productive season that would shadow the record from the previous year. With Junior Luis Ortiz, who lead the team the previous year with a .408 batting average and 18 home runs which set a school record, the Bulldogs had a leader who could keep producing hits. The Bulldog pitching staff also looked for an impressive showing with returners such as reliever Ross Davis who compiled a record of 7-1 last year with a couple of key victories included. Seniors Ricky Echols, Tim Lewellen, and Les Campbell should combine for an outstanding year along with newcomers Craig Murley, Terry Odell, and Jim Worrell. The Union Bulldogs hope not only to earn their way to the District 24 tournament, but to climb to an even higher level this season.

CHEERLEADERS

This year's Bulldog Cheerleading squad led Union to many exciting victories where they helped make the crowd the sixth man. Led by Captain Tracey Dennison, Kristy Bedwell, and sponsor Tina Giddens; the Union cheerleading squad built a strong team with many who were on the squad for the first time. Newcomers Alison Lee, Karen Mann, Paige Carder, and Bonita Mason got their first experience in Union cheerleading along with the new Buster: Gary Johnson.

INTRAMURALS

The ladies perfect the shotgun offense.
"You know, I try to hit the ball as loud as I can."
The classic benchwarmers.

It's not just powder-puff football anymore.
It's a bird, it's a plane, it's volleyball man.

Yardsticks just like the pros.
Union's Joe Montana, Bill Vest, reads the defense.

INTRAMURALS

Finding something to keep you active at Union is not a hard task. The intramural program makes sure of that. In the fall there's flag football and volleyball, and in the spring there's basketball and softball. This is not to mention all the tournaments and activities that are provided throughout the semesters. But have you ever wondered why so much trouble is put into these activities? The answer to this question is you and your welfare.

Union's intramural program strives to keep the average Union student healthy in mind and body. Intramurals allows a person to exercise his or her body, think in order to win, mix with other people, and just have fun. These objectives help develop our mental, physical, and social lives. At Union, though, there is another aspect: spiritual growth. As christians, we are to be Christlike in all that we do which includes athletics. The fair and honest play in intramurals allows us to be able to handle ourselves not only on the basketball floor but also in our everyday lives. Intramurals tool us with values and strengths that can last us the rest of our lives.

COMMUNITY

Community is defined as "a group of people living together and having interests, work, etc. in common." This definition fits Union as well as many other scholastic institutions, but Union has a distinct difference that makes its community more enduring: Christ. As President Barefoot stated "We are a community of faith."

In the faculty you see community in their concern for the student and in their desire to see the students do their best. Where else can you find as many professors who are professors of Christ and who show it daily?

In the administration you can see community in their endeavors to keep Union a Christian institution and protect her against pressures of the world. Their zeal for God's will to be done in the school is evident in their efforts to make the best decisions for the community.

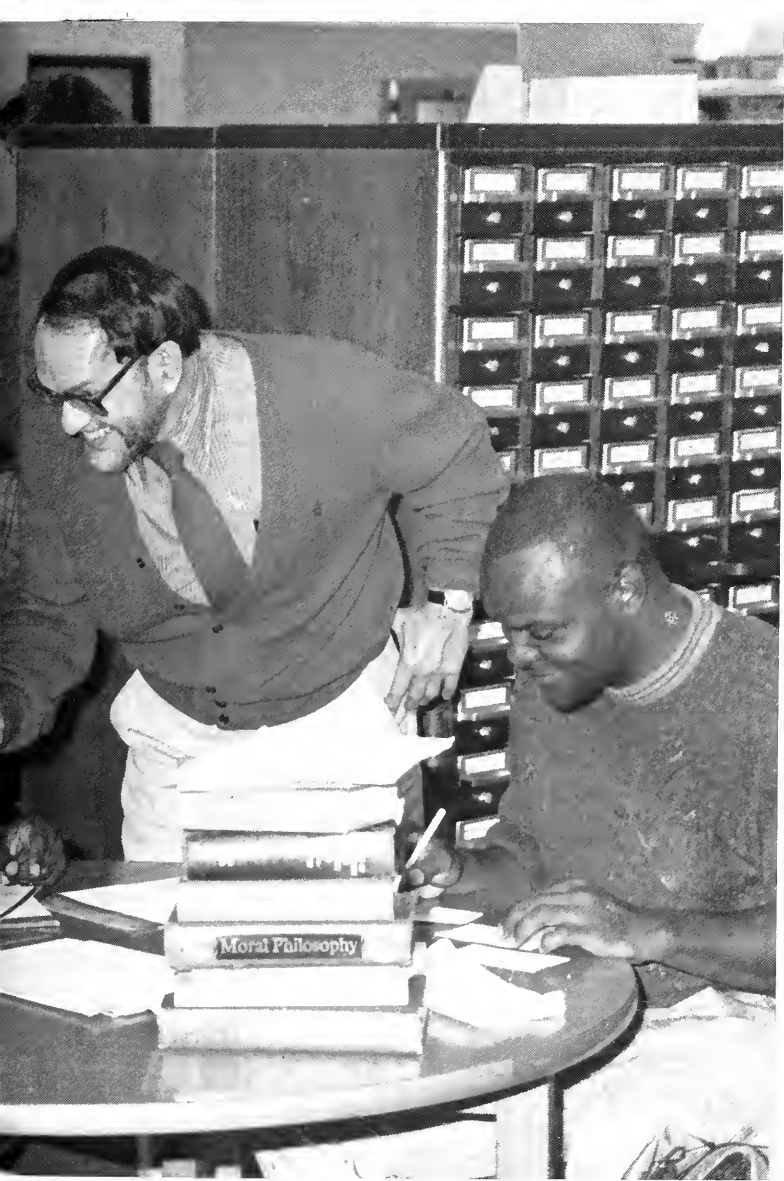

In the students community can be seen through their love for each other and for Christ. One needs only to walk down the halls at Union and see the smiling faces and hear the friendly words to see that there is a difference in the atmosphere at this school.

If it were not for one, the other two would falter. It is this type of support that needs to be an example for the outside world, for the world needs to regain its sense of community. Our example can be the light that goes into the darkness.

"We Are A Community Of Faith . . . "

Working and sharing together as one community.

THE PRESIDENTS

These, the executives of Union University, are the cogs that make the wheels roll at Union. Their undaunting commitment to community at Union keep the students, faculty, and administration working together smoothly in the best atmosphere possible.

One rare thing about Union is the accessibility to these leaders. Dr. Barefoot and the Vice Presidents often have time for students and their problems, and they strive to keep communication like this open wide. It is not a weird sight to see any one of these presidents at a Senate meeting or even eating in the cafeteria with the students. This is a quality that would be hard to find at many other universities or colleges.

Leading Union into the nineties, these presidents will surely do their best to keep Union moving forward to achieve even higher goals and to be a truly Christian institution.

Strange Yet Special

The campus of Union offers more unusual characters than a two-hour special of "Twin Peaks." Remember so-and-so, who was really goofy and performed that stupid stunt with the ping pong balls that put him in the hospital overnight? Or how about what's his name who followed everyone around, but wouldn't say a word? Or what about John Doe, the guy with a laugh that was funnier than any joke? Remember how ridicule and embarrassment caused so-and-so not to leave his room for the rest of the semester and how lonely what's his name seemed after his parent's divorce and how John Doe didn't laugh as much anymore? It was then that we realized that people are people not any different than ourselves, and we accepted them for who they were, not how their peers expected them to be. It was then that lifelong friendships were formed. Strange people are special people indeed.

U.F.O.'s At Union

Signs of extraterrestrial activity at Union have been reported and confirmed. These accusations were drawn from the wierdy shaded patches of grass that appear from time to time around the business building that could be the landing spots for some sort of space craft. Cases like these are not rare, for spots similar to these are popping up all around that mysterious landmark in England called Stonehenge. Could this mean that Union is in some way connected with aliens from other worlds? Could it be that aliens are responding to signals sent from the satellite dish atop the business building? Formulate your own conclusions from this mysterious occurence.

Room Check Blues

"Open Dorms" the sign proclaims. These two words bring tears of joy to the weary student's eyes. But the tears soon dry up as two more words are spotted on a sign directly below the first — "Room Check." Thoughts of horror run rampant at the notion of having to somehow conceal all of the stuff that has been accumulating on the desk, on the floor, in the closet, and, in some bizarre cases, on the ceiling. These fears are soon replaced by an even greater evil: your roommate has just handed you the scrub brush and stated that it is your turn to clean the bathroom. You scream in terror as the dreaded fungus-monster living in the tub claims yet another victim.

Mr. and Ms. BAC

Let's We Forget is proud to present the 1991 Mr. and Miss BAC. Each year the student body takes careful precautions in selecting a Mr. and Miss Union University. This year Blake Nichols and Audra Tucker did not win, but they did come awful close. After the votes had been tabulated, Blake and Audra decided not to waller in their sorrow, but to instead take the position of Mr. and Miss BAC. This is a very prestigious and time honored title (actually this is the first year it has been recognized and it means totally nothing, but it will obviously one day be much more important than Mr. and Miss Union). Blake and Audra would like to thank everyone that did not vote on them for Mr. and Miss Union so they could instead accept this coveted title.

Chapel Time

It's 9:55 a.m. on Monday morning, and you've barely awakened from your mandatory nap in Dr. Sominex's "Historical Uses of Corduroy:101" when you are suddenly swept up by the mass heading toward the big building with the pointy roof. Yes, it's that time again. A the organ whines your favorite tunes from "Son of Frankenstein," you quietly find the most coveted seat: front row center. After a hymn you've never heard that is sung in notes your brain never imagined, the speaker moves to the podium and begins by telling the obligatory "I remember when I was in chapel . . ." joke. Then, just as you begin to resume your mid-morning nap, he says something that really intrigues you. As you assume the "proper chapel posture" you realize that it isn't going to be so bad after all.

Cosmetic Changes

According to recent plans disclosed to the public, Union is about to expand its campus and facilities. New buildings will be going up in the next 5 to 10 years in addition to the new girl's dorms this year. The campus is changing and the physical environment that we know as Union will appear much different when we return in years to come. But will the next generation of students be any different? Will attitudes and prejudices change as much as the landscape? Union is a great place, but there are times when it does not live up to its name. It's time to show the world, or at least our neighbor, what Christian love is all about. Let's all pray the changes are not merely cosmetic, but internal as well.

The Lonely Gazebo

At the core of the concrete block and aluminum siding structures that comprise the men's dorms stands a lone monument to mirth and merriment: the Gazebo. Unlike its predecessor, the Sugar Shack, the Gazebo is a desolate place. For some peculiar reason hardly anyone will frequent this location. Built by Dave and Central Hardware in 1988, the Gazebo seems to attract a slightly oider crowd, usually during open dorms.

Oh Gazebo, will you ever find acceptance, or will you forever remain merely a decent shelter from waterfilled projectiles? Only time will tell.

A smile that can win and a look that can kill.

She's foaming at the mouth, shoot her.

Bringing this book to a close is a good feeling. With all the work completed and all the sweat poured, we do now present to you this final copy of the year '90-'91. The task of completing this book was not as easy as I had anticipated. I thought, "Sure, I'll just assign everyone else a piece of the book, and I'll just edit like an editor is suppose to do." This worked to a certain extent, but I still ended up spending many nights tossing and turning trying to remember if I had assigned the Kappa Mu picture or wondering if we would ever make the next deadline. The hours spent on these pages were long and the sleep between was abbreviated; but with the help of my wonderful staff and the guidance of the Lord, I can truly say that this experience will stay with me for the remainder of my years and will probably result in an early ulcer.

To thank all that participated in the production of this book would be impossible because I don't know all their names, but I would like to thank those that I do know. First of all, I would like to apologize for the number of trees that were used for all the copies of this book, but this is something that I could not help. I would also like to thank all the workers at Josten's who made this book look as professional as possible. Another major contributor to the success of this book was Anita Worley, editor of the previous volume of Lest We Forget. Without her know-how and dedication, this book would not have been possible. Also thanks to Leigh Allison for her excellent work in the Greek section and the General Index and her perfectionistic attitude; to Kim Vance who gave up a good deal of January to help meet the final deadline; to Jason Roberts who gave up nearly every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon from three to five of the Fall semester for this product; to Dan Lemmons for his superb essays on life at Union in the student section; to Amy Scott, Rodney O. Smith, Melissa Cable, and Cindy Hamm for their hours at the keyboard; to Steve Shuttleworth and Eric Jackson whose photographic ability I have really come to treasure; to Leann Ellis and Chris Harwood whose darkroom skills turned many disasters into miracles; and also thanks to Mr. Shuttleworth who is the epitome of an ideal advisor except for his skill at the art of procrastination. On a more personal level, I would like to thank my high school journalism teacher Mrs. Judy Bush, who struck my interests in journalism with her dedication to meet deadlines and to do it as perfectly as possible. Finally, thanks go to my family and my roommates who stood beside me through all the deadlines and all the trials that I faced. Thanks to you all.

Volume 75 of the Union University Lest We Forget was printed by Josten's Printing and Publishing in Clarksville, TN. After having completed four deadlines — October 15, November 19, December 10, and February 4 — consisting of a total of 180 pages and omni proofs corrected, the 1991 yearbooks were made available in May to all full-time students as a part of their tuition cost.

The cover specification included a 9 X 12 True Life Cover produced from color transparencies and color artwork. The True Life (four-color process) faithfully reproduced artwork on a smooth school designed cover drawn to specification by Josten's artist John Doubler. Base material color is HI GL LT478 with application process color 317 and one unit of silver foil 381 laminated extending on both front and back cover. The 180 pages of 100 pound gloss paper consist of 16 pages of color and 8 pages of second color Rich Red (Tempo 199) screened at 100% and 60%. Texture throughout the book consisted of Formatt #7084 and #7247.

The Custom Type specification include typesizes of Helvetica with main headlines being 42 pt.; sub-headlines, 18 pt.; body copy, 12 pt.; and caption copy, 8 pt. There were slight variations from this throughout the book.

Connections with the plant were maintained by sales Representative Johnny Cole and In-plant Consultant Jim Burchett.
